

IYIP INTERNSHIP 2024-2029

Internship location: Yaoundé, Cameroun

Host organization: PROTÈGE QV

PROTEGE QV is a Cameroonian association founded in 1995. The organization's mission is to promote individual and collective initiatives aimed at protecting the environment and improving the quality of life for Cameroonian families. The main programs currently underway at PROTEGE QV are: Local Leadership; Environmental Protection; Information and Communication Technologies for Development (ICT4D).

Its action strategies are as follows:

- Information and training to build the capacity of development actors;
- Research and development in the field of technology;
- Conducting studies and/or consultations on topics within its area of expertise;
- Promoting the adoption of ICTs at the grassroots level to achieve sustainable development goals.

Position Title: Communications Intern (Community Radio)

Language: advanced level of French (both written and spoken) is required.

Mandate: During the three-month internship, the intern will support the rehabilitation of Radio Flambeau in Banka as part of the project titled “Rehabilitating and Strengthening Radio Flambeau in Banka (Cameroon) to Give Women a Voice in Order to Improve Their Civic Participation.”

The intern will have the opportunity to carry out the following activities, in addition to other related tasks depending on the needs of the partner organization:

- Rehabilitating Radio Flambeau's equipment and materials;
- The creation of a web radio station;
- Capacity building for the production and broadcasting team;
- Raising awareness and supporting women's organizations in the department to produce content;
- Identifying national and international organizations capable of supporting the radio station's activities and negotiating potential partnerships;
- Producing and broadcasting programs on civic participation for the web radio.

Training before departure and upon return from the internship

Before departing, selected candidates must participate in a two-week (10 business days) pre-departure training program in Montreal, conducted in French by trainers who are recognized experts in their fields. The program will cover a variety of topics. A shorter online training program, conducted in English, may also be offered.

The IYIP also aims to help participants enter the job market upon their return. As part of this, the program includes workshops designed to improve interview skills and strengthen job search strategies.

In addition, participation in the IYIP covers:

- Airfare;
- Accommodation costs in the host country;
- Visa fees, if required;
- Required vaccinations*;
- Emergency medical insurance;
- Monthly living stipend;
- Personalized follow-up during your stay abroad.

Duration of the internship abroad: 3 months

However, IYIP is a comprehensive 4–5-month commitment that will take you through pre-departure training (2 weeks), an international internship (3 months), and post-return components including employability training and a mandatory public engagement activity.

To be eligible for the International Youth Internship Program (IYIP), the candidate must:

- Be 18-30 years old
- Be a Canadian citizen or a permanent resident
- Not have previously completed an IYIP Placement (see our FAQ)

The International Youth Internship Program (IYIP) is particularly aimed at youth facing barriers to employment: those who belong to or identify themselves as members of a group that faces discrimination, such as people living with disabilities, Indigenous peoples, racialized youth and members of the 2SLGBTQI+ community.
